For some time past there has been a general desire amongst English descendants throughout the Pass that a branch of this institution be established at some central point, and no doubt the new lodge at Frank will very shortly become a great benefactor. Anyone desirous of having themselves enrolled as charter members will do well to communicate with W. J. Bartlett at Blairmore, and J. W. Graham, at Frank, who will be glad to furnish them with the necessary information, as well as medical certificates which will have to be filled out by the nearest medical practitioner.

Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Murray

At the meeting of the Young People's Guild, on Monday evening last an address and presentation were made to Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Murray, who have recently moved from Blairmore to Bellevue where Mr. Murray is conducting a hardware business. The presentation consisted of a cut glass cream jar and a sugar bowl. The members of the different societies of the Presbyterian church, greatly regret that Mr. and Mrs. Murray have moved from Blairmore, those of their past activities and it is the wish of their many friends at Blairmore that they will find much happiness and prosperity in their new home. Following is the address:

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Murray.

It is with real regret that we have heard of your removal from our midst, and feel that we cannot allow you to go without some expression of our appreciation.

As first president of Ladies Aid Society, you, Mrs. Murray, were always willing to lend and assist in all the duties that such office involved in the choir you willingly rendered invaluable services. We have appreciated you very much in every activity of the church and in looking you we recognize that we are losing one of our most valued members.

And you, Mr. Murray, were largely instrumental in placing this congregation in the position that it now occupies, through your untiring efforts it has passed from a Mission field to that of an augmented church. We recognize some of the difficulties that a freemason of a new congregation and especially in a time of financial stringency, has to undergo, but we found you always ready to bear your share of responsibility, and have succeeded in placing this congregation in a condition that should secure its financial success.

We shall miss you both, and shall find it hard to fill your positions in our congregational life, but believing that your new position in Bellevue is to your own material welfare, our best wishes go with you. We shall always be interested in your welfare and all of us join in wishing God's richest blessing, wherever your future lot may be cast.

As a slight token of our esteem we ask you to accept these articles as a memento of our appreciation.

Signed on behalf of the congregation:

A. S. Tod, Minister.
Mr. McVie, President of Aid.
H. E. Lyon, Chairman of Mgrs.
J. G. Smith, President of Guild.
H. G. Bigelow, S.S. Sup.

The Rev. Mr. Edwards of Cowley, addressed the children of the Methodist Sunday School on Sunday afternoon last.

A meeting of the church social committee was held on Tuesday, Feb. 6, and they decided to have a Basket Social the first week in March and a concert in April. It is hoped that all ladies will rally and bring their baskets.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. Christie read three chapters of the book "War What For," in the Socialist hall; the chair was taken by Mr. G. Bateman. Another three chapters will be read next week, when the chair will be taken by the Rev. W. H. Irwin.

Last Sunday was Missionary Sunday in connection with the Methodist church. The preacher for Bellevue was the Rev. Young of Frank, who preached a good and intellectual sermon to a good congregation. The preacher for next Sunday will be the Rev. W. H. Irwin.

A general meeting was held at the Bellevue Social Club on Sunday night last in connection with the Bellevue football club. Not much business was done through and it was left to the committee to decide what competitions they should join in the coming season. The meeting was presided over by Mr. J. Alsop.

The concert and dance in connection with the Bellevue band will be held on Monday next in the Socialist hall. A short and varied programme has been arranged and a good dance is anticipated after the concert. It is hoped that all who can will make it convenient to be there and help to give the band their due.

At the Bellevue pool room a discussion was on the other night as to the rules of the game. One of the party said that when the ball was rolled up and went through at the pins an extra ball should be allowed. (This is in connection with five pins.) Will any person who is acquainted with the rules of the game please give us information on the same.

After a somewhat lengthy discussion regarding the exits and proper lighting of the different halls used by Moving Pictures shows etc, it was moved by J. Whittier that every exit way in use that the door must be at least five feet wide and platform and stairs, leading to the halls be provided with five foot railings, also that all lights must be turned on and off by a switch, a license fee of three dollars will also be charged for each night.

The secretary was instructed to write the coal company asking them to improve the electric light service. A committee was appointed to walk on different parties that were dumping ashes on the street and have them removed, the ashes to a more suitable place.

The Council were appointed as a committee to investigate horse tracks of C. P. R. as they are very unsatisfactory with regard to loading and unloading cars.

Several other minor matters were discussed and put off till next meeting. The notice is given that the parents may have a chance to object if they so wish.

The meeting adjourned to meet again March 1st.

THAT AWFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook meals or to do any of the household work. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in three weeks I was enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I can do my own work, washing and everything, and to never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. D. L. WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. Get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

She Didn't
A Baltimore lawyer had an office boy who was given to telling in other offices what he heard in that of his chief. The lawyer found it necessary to discharge him, but, thinking to keep him from a similar fault in the future, he consulted the boy wisely on his departure.

"Willie, you must never hear anything that is said in the office," he said. "Do what you are told but turn a deaf ear to conversation that does not include you."

A happy inspiration! He would see that the stenographer learned the same lesson, in passing, so, turning to her, he said:

"Miss Brown, did you hear what I said to Willie?"

"No, sir," she returned promptly.

In the treatment of summer complaint the most effective remedy that can be used is Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. It is a standard preparation and is used by the military in preference to other preparations. It is a highly concentrated medicine and its sedative and curative qualities are beyond question. It has been a popular medicine for many years and thousands can attest its superior qualities in overcoming dysentery and kindred complaints.

"How's your brother?"
"Not very well. He was playing with another little boy, neither who could lean the farthest out of the window, and he won."

W. N. U. No. 881

THE CALGARY SHOPS

Immense Railway Shops to be Built by C.P.R. to Handle Work on Western Division

Canadian Pacific Railway officials state that now that the contract for the Company's new Calgary shops has been let, what will constitute the new car repair plant.

It is of course, known that the shops will occupy an area of 130 acres of land, and will employ about 200 employees but other than the shops will resemble those of the Company at Montreal, no official statement is to be made as to the buildings to be erected. It is probable, however, that there will be at least twenty buildings, including freight, car, passenger car, and locomotive repairing shops. The locomotive shop will alone, it is said, cover six acres of land.

The machinery which will be installed in the new shops will be of the very latest design and the tool equipment will be very complete.

The Angus shops at Montreal are equipped to provide for repairs to the Company's rolling stock on the lines east of Winnipeg, including some 500 locomotives, and to construct new cars and locomotives for the entire service. These shops turn out an entire new train every day. The shops at Calgary are intended by the C.P.R. to provide for the repairs to equipment on its Western lines. That they will have plenty of work to do is evidenced from the fact that the Canadian Pacific Railway makes it a point to completely overhaul its rolling stock at least once a year. The company does this in order that its equipment may always be in the best possible state of efficiency. A few years ago the Angus shops at Montreal and the shops at Winnipeg were sufficient for this work but the C.P.R.'s equipment has increased greatly within the last few years, that the Calgary shops are a necessity.

The following table shows the additions made to the C.P.R.'s equipment since 1896:

Locomotives.....	1896	1911
1st and 2nd class passenger cars and colonial and baggage cars.....	372	1639
First class sleeping and dining cars.....	304	1767

NOW I CAN SAY I AM CURED

AFTER TAKING GIN PILLS

Bridgeville, N. S.
"For twenty years I have been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble, and have been treated by many doctors but to no purpose. I had given up all hope of getting cured when I tried Gin Pills. Now, I can say with a happy heart that I am cured after using four boxes of GIN PILLS."

Dr. J. D. Kellogg
Just think of it! Four boxes of Gin Pills cured Mr. Fraser—and he suffered for twenty years—and he had been treated by doctors, too. It is just cases like his, which give the power of Gin Pills to cure Kidney and Bladder Trouble, Burning Urine, Suppression or Incontinence of the Urine, Gravel, Rheumatism, Sciatica and Gout. Two Clever Statements
One crisis in Lord Palmerston's life illustrates the absolute good humor which may prevail even when political animosity is at its worst. Lord Derby had made an attack upon him in the Upper House with such energy and eloquence that the odds against him seemed overwhelming. But he defended himself and his policy from the dusk of one day to the dawn of another with such tact, dexterity and force of appeal to the national sense of honor that he was acquitted of all blame by a majority of fourscore.

Next day in passing through the corridor leading from the ante-room to the Upper House one swing door opened to his mind and at the same moment the other to that of Lord Derby. They were opponents, but they were also friendly and sweet-natured men. They smiled.

"I was just thinking," said Palmerston, "what clever fellow he was who so nearly put me in a hole."

"Ah," was the rejoinder, "but nothing like the cleverness of the fellow who got you out of it!"

Seven Miles Down.
A travelling man who drove across the country to a little town in Western Kansas the other day, met a farmer handling a wagon-load of water.

"Where do you get water?" he asked.

"Up the road about seven miles," the farmer replied.

"And do you haul water seven miles for your family and stock?"

"Yes."

"Why in the name of sense don't you dig a well?" asked the traveller.

"Because it's just as far one way as the other, stranger."

Miss Elder—"You fancy yourself very clever, I dare say, but I could give you a wrinkle or two."

Miss Younger—"No doubt you could, and I'll give you one."

Dad—"James, where have you been all afternoon?" James—"Been looking at the cricket match through a key-hole in the fence." Dad—"You have, have you? Eh—where is that key-hole?"

For many years they have been a standard remedy for dyspepsia and indigestion and are highly esteemed for their qualities.

LITTLE WORRIES IN THE HOME

IT IS THESE THAT BRING WRINKLES AND MAKE WOMEN LOOK FORTY YEARS OLD

Almost every woman at the head of a home meets daily with many little worries that make her life a little less comfortable. These little worries that make her life a little less comfortable. These little worries that make her life a little less comfortable.

Among the thousands of Canadian women who have found new health and new strength through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mrs. W. C. Derry, London, Ont., who says:

"About two years ago I found myself so badly run down that it was almost impossible to perform my household duties. I felt off in flesh, was weak and very pale, had no appetite, feet constantly cold, and I further make my life miserable I was afflicted with those other ailments from which so many women suffer. I tried many kinds of medicine, but got no benefit, and began to feel that I was slipping into chronic invalidism. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and although I felt somewhat hopeless decided to do so. To my delight, after taking the Pills a few weeks I felt much better, and a further use of them brought me back to my old time health. I have since recommended the Pills to many other women and those who have used them have always been benefited."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Shah's Kitchen
Who keeps the costliest kitchen in the world? Not, as one might imagine, the American millionaire, but the Shah of Persia. The utensils, fittings and furnishings of the Shah are said to be worth $250,000. Every saucepan is gilded inside, and the dishes appearing on his table are of solid gold, as well as the spoons, knives and forks, the handles of which are besides ornamented with precious stones. Moreover, the chef, in preparing dishes for the Shah's table, must use none but silver spoons and forks, and any dish on which he puts cold viands to keep them must be also of silver and gilded inside. The Shah's royal kitchen is also an expensive establishment. The saucepans in which the food for the royal table is prepared are said to be worth $12,000, while the value of the cooking utensils used for the royal children is put at $4,000, every saucepan being inlaid with gold, on the ground of this being necessary for the children's health.

Good Company*For Blairmore

The Jeannie Russell Company who come to the opera house for an engagement of three nights starting Monday, February 19th, are making a most decided impression wherever they appear this season. They recently went into Wenatchee, Wash., for an engagement of five nights but made such a hit in the city that they played for three consecutive weeks. The following is what The Wenatchee Daily World has to say of the Company:

"Because holiday week is considered the poorest of the year for the show business generally and because Wenatchee is considered such a good show town that it gives capacity business to a worthy attraction even in holiday week, this city is having a treat this Yuletide. Miss Jeannie Russell and her company of seventeen players are at the Wenatchee theatre. Last night they opened a six day engagement, and if the remaining performances are half as good as the first one, they will be worth three times the price of admission and a packed house each evening, as it was last night.

"That the dramas to follow will even be superior to the first one was vouchsafed by Ray F. Brandon, one of the brothers owning the attraction, when he made a neat little curtain speech. Without accepting the testimony of perhaps a prejudiced party, we have the facts before us that the company of seventeen people last night demonstrated their superb talent and that they have scenic equipment to adequately produce their plays. On top of that we are to see the following array of dramatic masterpieces: "Gods Country" tonight, "The Thief" on Wednesday night, "The Devil" Thursday, "Two Married Men" the feature play of the week Friday night, "The Half Breed," Saturday.

"Miss Russell is simply delicious. Her opportunities for display of dramatic power were not many last night, but she was natural and showed fidelity to high ideals in appearing natural where the lines called for nothing more. So many stars are jealous of their position and insist on plunging themselves into the spotlight in an attitude becoming for applause even though the situation warrants nothing but the commonplace. Two or three climaxes last evening gave a foretaste of Miss Russell's capabilities, and the public should be fully warned—watch that woman—there will be something doing on that stage this week before she finishes her repertoire as announced.

"Mr. Brandon captured the crowd as an American who knew a rascal whether in a legislature or in a European hotel. Frank Rice demonstrated that he is a good actor and during one act sang a song that revealed in the possession of a delightful basso cantante voice. His first selection was a Scottish ballad, and as an encore he sang a popular bass solo. Two young ladies of the company gave pleasing songs in imitation of him. It is an unusual thing to say, but every member of the company fitted into his part as though it were written for him or her. There were no aggravating lapses of memory, no uncertainty as to how something should be said or done, no amateurishness anywhere manifest. It was what might be called a smooth production. Evidently there is a stage manager directing the Russell company who has no patience with scamp work, who insists that every line shall be spoken and acted just right.

"To a long suffering public this is indeed refreshing. Appreciation was shown by round after round of spontaneous applause and by the many remarks overheard as the audience was leaving the theatre.

"That was the best show I ever saw in this town," said one lady to her neighbor.

"Seldom have I seen the performance equaled anywhere," re-

Blairmore "Teens"*vs. Frank "Teens"

The Blairmore rink was visited by our youthful reporter on Saturday afternoon just as the match between the Frank and Blairmore junior hockey fans was being arranged on the ice, and here is a synopsis of his report:

"Turner, the referee, drops a piece of rubber on the ice between two paddles and then steps backwards and tumbles over a lady's glove that had fallen out of Frank Hinds' hip pocket. The piece of rubber is chased by a lot of hungry-looking kids from all over the ice and received several painful jabs and two big uppercuts dealt by some boys who were fastened to the top end of the paddles. Gee, they looked funny. Then the rubber thing criss crossed up and down the ice, erasing every other living thing that had life. Joe Netherill, in the corner towards Seattle, jumped to his feet and crept towards his chum on the Dawson City side and both 'em lay out, one touchin' other, and the gate-keeper was thus saved from what would have been a hard blow if the tough thing had hit him. The gate behind the Frank boys seemed to belong to that piece of rubber, for the Blairmore boys could not keep it out or there, although they tried. I think the piece of rubber must have passed by that gate-keeper a hundred times or more. I counted eleven and got tired counting. Dawson and Green, the men who made the ice, stood up on the fence posts and they hooped-laved as loud as they was able; and the Blairmore girls, they hoop-laved for Blairmore. Gee, didn't their mouths hoop law! The Frank boys seemed to bluish up at every stage of the game, and before they stopped blushing they quibbled together and carried the piece of rubber up to the Blairmore gate, where they asked permission and were allowed to pass it in two times. Gee, the Frank boys looked discouraged. The Blairmore boys asked some of 'em if they cared to take hockey lessons, but they all declined and blushed. Gee, but they was red. Probably the atmosphere had some effect on 'em. One had his head turned red all over—think it must have been the reflection from the other boys' faces, when they got so scared or the rubber object moving so perpetually around their gate. The Frank boys used to try to play dirty, and so did some of the Blairmore boys, so they were piled up on the fence where the pretty Blairmore girls stood all round 'em. Gee, I never thought the Blairmore girls was so pretty. Mike Rose and George Patterson seems to like the girls because they used to do most of the dirty work. There was lots of good play on both sides, and the Blairmore boys say if they are allowed to wear the skirts they can beat the Blairmore girls to a trifle."—A. B.

THAT ANFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—I suffered two years with female troubles, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meat or to converse with my friends. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after three weeks I am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will be of use to others you may publish it."—Mrs. OLIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or impairment. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

She Didn't
A Baltimore lawyer had an office boy who was given to telling in other offices what happened in that of his chief. The lawyer found it necessary to discharge him, but, thinking to keep him from a similar fault in the future, he counselled the boy wisely on his departure.

"Willie, you must never hear anything that is said in the office," he said. "Do what you are told but turn a deaf ear to conversation that does not include you."

A happy inspiration! He would see that the dissembler heard the same lesson, in passing, so, turning to her, he said:

"Miss Brown, do you hear what I said to Willie?"

"No, sir," she returned promptly.

"In the treatment of summer complaints the most effective remedy that can be used is Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. It is a standard preparation and many people employ it in preference to other preparations. It is a highly concentrated medicine and its sedative and curative qualities are beyond question. It has been a popular medicine for thousands of years and thousands can attest its superior qualities in overcoming dysentery and malarial complaints.

"How's your brother?"

"Not very well. He was playing with another little boy, seeing who could lean the farthest out of the window, and he went."

The Silent Father
"It'll beat that man is the father of six or seven children."

"Why?"

"Because, if he had less than three he'd be bragging about them."

Your hands won't get chapped this winter if you use SNAP.

Milking, scouring the separator and cleaning up the stable, get the dirt and grime ground right into the skin.

Coarse soap and hard rubbing only chaps the skin. SNAP cleans and purifies because anti-septic—gets out the dirt without hard rubbing, and is soothing and healing to the skin.

Not Too Old Yet.

Professor—"Young man, I am seventy-nine years old and I never smoked a pipe of tobacco in my life."

Student (puffing cigar)—"Well, sir, you're not too old to learn, I assure you. I ate learned Greek at the age of eighty, you know."

England possesses more diminutive railways than any other country, for there are said to be several lines there that find one or two locomotives sufficient for their successful operation.

Advice is cheap unless one goes to an attorney for it.

THE CALGARY SHOPS

Immense Railway Shops to be Built by C.P.R. to Handle Work on Western Division

Canadian Pacific Railway officials state that how the contract for the company's new Calgary shops has been let a statement will soon be made as to just what will constitute the new car repairing plant. It is, of course, known that the shops will occupy an area of 350 acres of land, and will employ about 500 employees but other than the shops will resemble those of the company at Montreal, no official statement has yet been made as to the buildings to be erected. It is probable, however, that there will be at least twenty buildings, including freight car, passenger car, and locomotive repairing shops. The locomotive shop will alone, it is said, cover six acres of land.

The machinery which will be installed in the new shops will be of the very latest design and the tool equipment will be very complete.

The Angus shops at Montreal are equipped to provide for repairs to the company's rolling stock on the lines east of Winnipeg, including some 500 locomotives, and to construct new cars and locomotives for the entire service. These shops turn out an entire new train every day. The shops at Calgary are intended by the C.P.R. to provide for the repairs to equipment on its Western lines. They will have plenty of work to do as evidenced from the fact that the Canadian Pacific Railway makes it a point to completely overhaul its rolling stock at least once a year. The company does this in order that its equipment may always be in the best possible state of efficiency. A few years ago the Angus shops at Montreal and the shops at Winnipeg were sufficient for this work but the C.P.R.'s equipment has increased so greatly within the last few years that the Calgary shops are a necessity.

Two Clever Statesmen

One crisis in Lord Palmerston's life illustrates the absolute good humor which may prevail even when political enmity is at its worst. Lord Derby had made an attack upon him in the Upper House with such energy and eloquence that the odds against him seemed overwhelming. But he defended himself and his policy from the dusk of one day to the dawn of another which such tact, dexterity and force of appeal to the national sense of honor that he was acquitted of all blame by a majority of fourscore.

Next day in passing through the corridor leading from the ante-room to the Upper House, Derby swung down to his hand and at the same moment the other to that of Lord Derby. They were opponents, but they were also manly and sweet-natured men. They smiled.

"What clever fellow he was who so nearly put me in a hole."

"Was the rejoinder, "but nothing like the cleverness of the fellow who got you out of it!"

The Chicago Fire could have been prevented with one pail of water, but the water was not handy. Keep a bottle of Hamlin's Wizard Oil handy and prevent the fiery pains of inflammation.

Seven Miles Down.

A travelling man who drove across the country to a little town in western Kansas, the other day, met a farmer hauling a wagon-load of water.

"Where do you get water?" he asked.

"Up the road about seven miles," the farmer replied.

"And do you haul water seven miles for your family and stock?"

"Yes."

"Why in the name of sense don't you dig a well?" asked the traveller.

"Because it's just as far one way as the other, stranger."—Argonaut.

Miss Elder—"You fancy yourself very clever, I dare say; but I could give you a wrinkle or two."

Miss Young—"No doubt you could—and never miss them."

Dad—"James, where have you been all afternoon?" James—"Been looking at the cricket match through the knothole in the fence."

Dad—"You have, have you? Er—where is that knothole?"

Hope is the cheapest and at the same time the most precious thing in the world.

"Are you going to start a garden next year?"

"I am not," replied the business amateur. "Next year, instead of buying good stuff, I'm going to eat it."

The Foe of Indigestion.—Indigestion is a common ailment and few are free from it. It is a most distressing complaint and often the suffering attending it is most severe. The very best remedy is Farnesie's Vegetable Pills taken according to directions. They rectify the irregular action of the stomach and restore healthy action. For many years they have been a standard remedy for dyspepsia and indigestion and are highly esteemed for their qualities.

The Very Simple Boy.

A rather simple-looking lad halted before a blacksmith's shop on his way home from school and eyed the doings of the proprietor with much interest.

The brassy smith, disinterested with the boy's curiosity, held a piece of red-hot iron suddenly under the youngster's nose, hoping to make him beat a hasty retreat.

"If you'll give me half a dollar I'll lick it," said the lad.

The smith took from his pocket half a dollar and held it out.

The simple-looking youngster took the coin, licked it, dropped it in his pocket and slowly walked away whistling.—Sunday Magazine.

The most abused word in the English language is "guaranteed."

AMERICAN CORN.

In its sturdy vigor it is representative of our people.

Indian corn is a native of America. The Indians cultivated it when the white man first came, and there it grew in its native soil. Without it the early settlements would have perished.

It grows in all parts of the United States and in its every stage presents various charms and attractions, more alluring to the eye than waving fields of wheat or rice, the white cotton or the splendid sugar cane, with which it vies in statelyness and ornaments in its gorgeous and changeable hues of green. One-third of the human family lives on rice, but it is not the third that counts. The date palm is everything to the desert dweller. So is corn to the American, although often indirectly. He eats it on the cob and off, makes of it innumerable kinds of food and turns it into hogs and cattle. Its sturdy vigor is representative of the people. It strikes its tap root deep into the earth, while the internal roots reach out in every direction. It drops under a long drought, but given two or three rains toward early time it yields a harvest that repays the "goosy" profits to share.

THE BRITISH MUSEUM.

Care With Which It is Guarded From Fire and Thieves.

It is very doubtful whether the British Museum could ever be burned down. It is more likely to be broken first. There is enough water stored there in tanks to run for many days continuous pumping in case by any chance the ordinary supply gave out.

Every policeman on the premises, too, is also a fireman, being especially trained before he takes up his duties. There is not a room or corner or remotest part of the building which could not be deluged in two minutes if necessary.

Not only is the little chance of the museum being burned down, but also any building near it. For that matter, for the museum is situated, after them, too, hardly less carefully.

There are just about as much chance as fire has, immediately after being, every gallery and every room in the building is gone through, searched and locked up, and then the whole process is repeated again an hour or so, this procedure being directed against fire rather than thieves.

It is a full hour's hard work merely to lock or unlock all the doors in the building. "Larceny's Weekly."

The Modern Practice.

The younger "Pins" tells us that the Roman lawyer, though he was the right eye if he was for the plaintiff, his left eye if he was for the defendant. In those times if a lawyer is retained on his right eye it means that a witness on the other side has met him since court adjourned. If both eyes are blocked it signifies that the lawyer has twice instead of once. That's all—Los Angeles Express.

The Folks From Maine.

The governor of Maine was at the school, and was telling the pupils what the people of different states were called.

"Now," he said, "the people from Indiana are called 'Hoosiers,' the people from North Carolina are 'Heels,' the people from Michigan we know as 'Michigans.' Now, what little boy or girl can tell me what the people of Maine are called?"

"I know," said a little girl.

"Well, what are we called?" asked the governor.

"Mainies,"—Norfolk Virginian Pilot.

Sores Disfigured So He Dreaded to Appear in Public. No Rest Night or Day. Cuticura Ointment Cured.

It did not bother at first, but in the week's time the itching became so rapidly over my face and throat and the burning itching soon became so intense that I began to seek relief in different medicines, none seemed to give me any relief. ## Library for the Blind

Last spring a blind man on the Canadian Free Library for the Blind appeared in these columns. In that article it was stated that the library, then at Markham, Ont., was to be moved to Toronto. The removal has since taken place, and the C. F. L. B. now occupies quarters at 105 Avenue St., Toronto, Ont.

The Canadian Free Library for the Blind is attempting to reach and benefit all the blind of Canada, but it is encountering many difficulties in the realization of this hope from the difficulty in securing names and addresses of those without sight from the necessity of canvassing for funds to defray the expenses of maintenance. The Board of Management, therefore, requests all readers of this journal who are acquainted with blind persons not now enjoying the benefits of the library, to send in such names and addresses to the Secretary, S. C. Swift, at Washington Ave., Toronto, Ont. It also makes a direct appeal to the general Canadian public to contribute some small portion of the wealth which it has been blessed with during the last century. Any contributions should be sent to the treasurer, E. W. Horton, Esq., 37 Balmute St., Toronto, Ont.

It is the desire of the C. F. L. B. to establish a printing department for the purpose of printing and selling books in embossed type for the use of the Canadian blind. There is at present no such department in Canada, with the result that Canadian literature is practically unavailable to our sightless citizens. Thirty thousand dollars are required to secure a feasible scheme to make the plan workable. A thousand of this amount is at present in the treasury of the C. F. L. B. The library asks the Canadian people to help it to realize this plan so worthy of assistance.

Mrs. Hillel—I can't tell exactly. I was in Lacey's and got into the crush at a bargain counter, and then my attention was attracted to another counter and I worked my way there. I suppose I was attracted to it for an instant, possibly I was not. All I know is that when I came to the counter, I saw a man who was looking at me. I saw a man who was looking at me. I saw a man who was looking at me.

Forests of the Philippines. After several years' investigation of the forests of the Philippine Islands by H. N. Whitford, the following statements concerning their extent and richness which will be likely to surprise many readers are given. For instance, that the virgin forest area of the islands, covering 25,000,000 acres, is estimated to contain a board foot of lumber and he contrasts this with the 400,000,000 feet of lumber grown in the United States.

The Philippines forest area, acre for acre, four times as rich as those of the United States. The Philippines forest area, acre for acre, four times as rich as those of the United States. The Philippines forest area, acre for acre, four times as rich as those of the United States.

When the world's eyes are opened to the value of the Philippine forests, the great wealth which will be added to the common wealth of mankind.

SPANISH VENGEANCE.

Fate of a Faithless Son in the Reign of Emperor Charles.

It was in the early days of the reign of the Emperor Charles, when the Spanish people, ever jealous of their rights, became infuriated at a administrative cortes for voting imperial grants without obtaining redress for popular grievances. Unhappily, the representative of Segovia, being a bold and haughty man, returned to his native city to defend his conduct and, so contented with the information that he might give an account of his actions in the cortes.

He, the multitude, infuriated at his insolence in attempting to justify conduct they deemed execrable, burst open the doors of the church and, seizing the traitor, dragged him through the streets with curses and insults toward the place of public execution.

The dead and crimson came forth with the holy sacrament to save the mob; the monks to the monasteries, by which the luckless deputy was dragged, prayed on their knees that his life might be spared or, at least, that he be allowed time for absolution; but, without regard for humanity or religion, they hanged their victim upon the gibbet.

ROAD TO WEALTH.

Maxims to Which Rothschild Ascribed His Early Success.

Rothschild's community ascribed his early success in a great degree to the following maxims:

I combined three profits. I made the manufacturer my customer, and the one I bought of my customer—that is, I supplied the manufacturer with raw materials and dyes, on each of which I made a profit, and took his manufactured goods, which I sold at a profit, and thus combined three profits.

Make a bargain at once. Be an off-hand man.

"Never have anything to do with an old man. He is too slow and he may never see you who had not shot to their feet. I never act with them. Their advice sounds very well, but it is not worth listening to. They are not on themselves. How can they do me good?"

Be cautious and bold. It requires a great deal of boldness and a great deal of caution to make a great fortune, and when you have got it it requires ten times as much to keep it.

The last idea was one which Rothschild frequently expressed, and there is no doubt that it was thoroughly impressed with its truth—Life.
